PREAMBLE

Whereas, delegates representing a cross-section of the Namibian people met at a convention held at the Windhoek College of Education from the 5th to the 7th December 2008, to discuss various issues of great concern to the Namibian nation;

And Whereas the said convention identified and raised serious concerns about the current Namibian Government's inability to govern the country competently, justly, fairly and transparently;

And Whereas the convention noted the general dissatisfaction with the situation in the country.

Specifically, the convention came to the realization of:

- the government's inability to address widespread poverty and inequalities in the country;
- the stagnation of the economy;
- the failing education system;
- the staggering levels of unemployment;
- the rampant corruption and lack of accountability in Namibia's public sector institutions;
- the widening and persistent national divisions based on the ideology of regionalism;
- the ever widening gap between the utter of high sounding aspirations and action to implement such aspirations;
- the undermining of the rule of law through criminal activities, such as, the rigging of elections;
- the drifting away from the commitment to the principles and values of democratic governance towards autocracy and cronyism.

And Whereas the convention unanimously expressed the intention to form and build an inclusive, mass based political party that will work to address the broad concerns of the Namibian nation.

And Whereas the Rally for Democracy and Progress was launched on 17th November 2007 at the Independence Arena as an inclusive, mass based political party, dedicated to the promotion of socio-economic well being of the Namibian people;

Now therefore, that inaugural convention of the Rally for Democracy and Progress adopts the following constitution:

CHAPTER 1

General Provisions

4. The application of sanctions must be preceded by a prudent and meticulous investigation of the accusations laid down and it should be only after the accusations have been duly proved correct that the decision to apply sanctions shall be taken and this must be preceded by a fair and adequate hearing where the accused member has been granted a fair hearing and has been guaranteed an appropriate legal defence.

Article 20

Norms of Application of Sanctions

The norms of application and ratification of disciplinary sanctions shall be subject to a regulation approved by the Central Committee of the RDP.

Article 21

Substitution of Sanctions

1. In the case of an offence of lesser gravity, the RDP sanctions may be substituted by a form of private or public self-criticism by the cadre involved.
2. In daily interactions of RDP members, however, RDP members who may get involved in the practice of committing minor crimes shall be subjected to individual or collective warning without necessarily resorting to the RDP sanctions.

Article 22

Incentives or Stimulus

RDP members or RDP organs who distinguish themselves or excel in their RDP activities or RDP work shall be encouraged by giving them incentives or stimulus in accordance with the provisions of the RDP internal rules.

CHAPTER 9

The RDP and the State (Government)

Article 23

The Party Autonomy

1. As stated in Article four (4) of this constitution, the RDP is a political party which is independent of the state or any other political organization and shall operate independently, strictly under the provisions of the Constitution of the Republic of Namibia and other laws of the state.
2. Operating under the system of multi-partyism, the RDP will uphold and fully respect the principle of separation between the state and the political parties operating within Namibia.

CHAPTER 10

The RDP and its Organizations

Article 24

The RDP Youth Organization

The youth organization of the RDP is the reservoir of the future RDP leaders and the main transmitting belt of RDP policies to the Namibian people. The RDP youth organization shall function in accordance with its own autonomous constitution and shall cooperate with the RDP in the elaboration of the appropriate policy for the youth.

Article 25

The RDP Women Organization

The women organization is, in particular, the transmitting belt of the RDP policies to the most downgraded sections of the population in different areas of the country. Like the youth organization, the women organization shall function under its own autonomous constitution and shall cooperate with the RDP in the elaboration of practical and appropriate policy for the women.

CHAPTER 11

The RDP and Civic and Faith Organizations

Article 26

The RDP and Faith Organizations

1. Religion occupies an important space and plays a significant role in our society influencing, to a considerable extent, the conscience and behaviour of a large number of people.
2. The RDP upholds the establishment of a secular and democratic state that recognizes and guarantees freedom of conscience to all citizens, the equality of all people before the law, independently of professing or not professing any religious faith, creed, equality among religious institutions and their freedom of action within the confines of the Constitution of the Republic of Namibia and other complementary laws of the state.
3. For the objective of uplifting the material and spiritual wellbeing of the Namibian citizens, in the interest of unity and socio-economic progress of the country, RDP heartily upholds greater cooperation, active and permanent participation of faith based institutions in the social / economic spheres, particularly in the fields of social assistance, health, education and culture.

Article 27

The RDP and Civic Organizations
